Description

A great opportunity to secure a Seawind 1000XL, and one of the last built here in Australia.

This 2011 example has just undergone significant works, including new Quantum sails, new engines, new running rigging, and a new tender and outboard. All new standing rigging in 2023 takes care of the major items and making her a very straightforward option for her next owner.

The 1000XL has built a strong reputation as a practical catamaran that's easy to own and enjoy.

A proven coastal cruiser, she suits a wide range of boating — easy to sail short-handed, economical to run, and with a layout that just works. There's plenty of usable cockpit space, a light and open saloon, and comfortable accommodation for family or guests, all without unnecessary complexity.

It's the kind of boat you can step onto and use straight away. Everything is accessible, nothing is overdone, and they offer a genuinely enjoyable sailing experience for their size.

She is currently privately owned however is in current commercial survey making her a fantastic option for charter operations.

Being one of the later Australian-built boats only adds to the appeal
